

The Executive Council of the State of Danubia

Promulgated: May 2026, Administrative Authority: The Executive Council of Danubia.

Classification: Legal Backbone / Public Record

Doc ID: ECD-TTC-2026-001

PREAMBLE: We, the Executive Council of the State of Danubia, acting in accordance with the principles of natural justice, permanent sovereignty, and the inherent right of self-determination, do hereby establish this Transitional Territorial Charter.

Acknowledging the current physical access restrictions imposed on the Danube River Sector, this Charter serves as the supreme legal instrument that establishes a neutral, temporary administrative layer. Its purpose is to safeguard, catalogue, and scale the legal, digital, and civil infrastructure of Danubia until such a time as a permanent, sovereign, and democratically elected Republic can safely assume territorial governance.

ARTICLE I: JURISDICTION & MANDATE

Section 1.1: Territorial Anchor

The temporary territorial administrative authority defined by this Charter maps explicitly to a non-contiguous network of two distinct operational sectors situated along the western bank of the Danube River basin:

1. Sector I (The Northern Capital District): Mapping explicitly to the geographic boundaries designated as Pocket 1, centred at coordinates 45.651111, 18.918611. This sector serves as the exclusive administrative seat of Danubia, housing the central government data nodes, the digital registry, fiscal auditing systems, and the primary legislative framework.
2. Sector II (The Southern Civic District): Mapping explicitly to the geographic boundaries designated as Pocket 3, centred at coordinates 45.594642, 18.907913. This sector will serve as the primary residential and community planning zone, designated for sustainable infrastructure, citizen housing allocation, ecological preservation, and the main digital municipality registry.

Together, these sectors comprise the unified territorial claim of the Danubian State . The Administration explicitly recognises active regional stakeholders in adjacent sectors (namely, Liberland located at Gornja Siga, and Gapla located at the Pocket West of Apatin and Pocket 2) and operates within a framework of peaceful coexistence, respect for boundaries, and strategic regional cooperation.

Section 1.2: Scope of Power

The administration shall exercise absolute authority over the state's digital frontiers, identity systems, legislative archives, and foreign diplomatic representations. The Executive Council of Danubia explicitly disclaims any permanent sovereign ownership; it acts solely as a legal custodian.

Section 1.3: Doctrine of Permanent Peaceful Administration

The Executive Council of Danubia is a strictly non-military, administrative custodian layer. The Administration explicitly renounces the creation or maintenance of any standing paramilitary, naval, or military force. Danubia asserts and defends its territorial sovereignty exclusively through peaceful diplomacy, international public law, legal arbitration, and digital infrastructure resilience.

As a strict exception to this pacifist doctrine, the Administration authorises the establishment of the Civil Honour Guard of Danubia. The Honour Guard shall function exclusively as a non-military, civilian ceremonial unit. The unit is strictly barred from possessing combat weaponry, executing tactical military training, or engaging in security enforcement. Its mandate is strictly limited to historical pageantry, the preservation of state traditions, the symbolic protection of state regalia, and serving as a diplomatic escort for the Executive Council during official state functions.

ARTICLE II: THE EXECUTIVE COUNCIL & ADMINISTRATIVE STRUCTURE

Section 2.1: The Executive Council

The Administration of Danubia is vested in the Executive Council. The Council shall function as a collaborative, pluralistic governing body composed of five (5) active voting members:

- 1. The High Commissioner (serving as Council Chair)*
 - 2. The Commissioner of the Civil Registry*
 - 3. The Commissioner of the Treasury & Audit*
 - 4. The Commissioner of Digital Infrastructure & Land Mapping*
 - 5. The Commissioner of Foreign Relations & International Law*

Section 2.2: The Core Commissions

To effectively execute the collective decisions passed by the Executive Council, the operational duties of the state are divided into four distinct commissions:

- 1. The Commission of the Civil Registry: Empowered to establish a centralised, immutable population database, process E-Resident applications, verify historical documentation, maintain the formal state roll, and issue standardised landscape CR80 Resident Permits and Citizen Passports.*
 - 2. The Commission of the Treasury & Audit: Responsible for the secure custody of state revenues, material procurement, the execution of the 30-day ledger SLA, and publishing the Annual Financial Report.*
 - 3. The Commission of Digital Infrastructure & Mapping: Mandated to safeguard the distributed digital architecture, configure secure ballot software, and manage geographic data mapping across both sovereign Danubian Districts (Pockets 1 and 3).*
 - 4. The Commission of Foreign Relations & International Law: Mandated to direct external diplomatic communications, draft and submit formal state notifications to foreign sovereign entities, log international correspondence, and direct the legal arbitration of Danubian sovereignty.*

Section 2.3: Collaborative Governance & Voting Mandate

No individual member of the Administration, including the High Commissioner, possesses the authority to unilaterally enact administrative decrees, alter state policy, or allocate treasury funds. All executive decisions require a formal session of the Executive Council and must pass by a simple majority vote.

Section 2.4: Extraordinary Casting Vote

In any extraordinary session where an omission, absence, or abstention results in an even number of cast votes and a deadlocked tie, the High Commissioner, as Council Chair, shall hold the casting power to execute a singular deciding vote to resolve the deadlock and ensure administrative continuity.

Section 2.5: Consultative Council Seats

Members of the Executive Council retain the right to maintain active membership or roles in external civic, professional, and regional partner political organisations, provided such affiliations do not compromise the foundational sovereignty of Danubia.

In the event that the Executive Council votes on a matter directly affecting an external regional entity or political body with which a Council member is affiliated, that member must formally declare a conflict of interest and recuse themselves from the final vote. Executive decisions and administrative actions taken regarding said entity must be executed solely by impartial, non-affiliated members of the Council to ensure complete transparency and eliminate institutional bias.

Section 2.6: Consultative Council Seats

The Executive Council shall feature a secondary tier of Consultative Seats. One (1) representative from each formally recognised and registered Danubian political party shall be granted a permanent Consultative Seat.

Section 2.7: Rights of Consultative Members

Consultative members hold the strict legal right to attend all general sessions of the Executive Council, receive meeting agendas, participate in floor debates, and submit policy proposals for consideration. However, Consultative Seats are strictly non-voting positions and carry no executive or legislative decision-making power.

Section 2.8: Executive Privilege & Closed Sessions

The Executive Council retains the strict legal right to declare a Closed Session by a majority vote of the core voting Commissioners. Formally recognised Consultative Members shall be automatically excluded from Closed Sessions, shall not receive the corresponding meeting agendas or minutes, and hold no right of oversight regarding these specific proceedings. Closed Sessions are strictly limited to matters of State Security (digital systems protection), Diplomatic Strategy (active international arbitration preparation), and Internal Investigations (registry fraud audits).

ARTICLE III: PLURALISM & POLITICAL RECOGNITION

Section 3.1: Democratic Pluralism

The administration explicitly guarantees political pluralism. The administration shall remain strictly neutral and shall not favour, fund, or endorse any singular political association. All recognised civil movements that meet the registration criteria defined herein shall possess equal rights to organise, publish platforms, and contest the inaugural democratic elections.

Section 3.2: The Registration Protocol

Any civil or political association seeking formal recognition by the Administration and a position on the ballot for the first election must submit a formal application to the Registrar of Political Parties. The application packet must strictly include:

- The Party Constitution: A foundational document outlining internal democratic structures and a commitment to the peaceful establishment of the permanent Republic.
 - The Public Manifesto: A clear, publicly accessible declaration of the party's legislative platform and policy goals.
 - The Representative Roll: A certified ledger containing the digital signatures and verified Civil Registry Numbers of at least twenty-five (25) unique E-Residents (of any tier) or Citizens supporting the formation of the party.

Section 3.3: Ballot Access for the Inaugural Election

Upon successful verification of the application packet, the Registrar shall issue a Certificate of Political Recognition. This certificate grants the organisation:

- The immediate right to establish an official, linked directory page on the state website.
- A mandatory, permanent consultative seat on the Executive Council, restricted to a single (1) representative per party.
- Automatic placement on the official ballot software for the first secret-ballot election that triggers the transition to the permanent Republic.

ARTICLE IV: COGNISANCE OF EXILE AND THE ESTONIA PROTOCOL

Section 4.1: Operational Continuity

In the event of continued physical blockades or territorial denial by external regional entities, the legitimacy of the state of Danubia shall not diminish.

Following international legal precedents of administrative continuity, the state's legal framework, civil registries, and official decrees shall remain completely operational, binding, and fully sovereign in a distributed, high-security digital architecture.

ARTICLE V: FINANCIAL TRANSPARENCY & ACCOUNTABILITY

Section 5.1: The Public Treasury

All revenues collected by the Administration, including but not limited to registration fees, physical identification processing fees, and voluntary contributions, shall be deposited into a centralised treasury account managed solely for the development and maintenance of Danubia.

Section 5.2: The Ledger Access Protocol

The Administration shall maintain a comprehensive internal ledger itemising all deposits, assets, and expenditures. Any verified E-Resident or Citizen holds the right to submit a formal request to view the current ledger.

Section 5.3: The 30-Day Fulfilment SLA

The Administration is legally bound to fulfil ledger access requests and supply the data within thirty (30) calendar days of receipt. If an extraordinary administrative obstacle or security concern prevents fulfilment within this window, the Administration must provide the requesting citizen with a formal, written explanation detailing the specific, valid reason for the delay and an updated delivery timeline or an explanation why the request was denied.

Section 5.4: Annual Reporting Mandate

Independent of individual citizen requests, the Administration must compile and publish an official Annual Financial Report. This report will break down the year's total revenue, operational costs (such as ID production, website hosting, and shipping), and territorial infrastructure investments, and it will be permanently downloadable to the entire registry population.

ARTICLE VI: SUNSET AND DEMOCRATIC TRANSITION

Section 6.1: Dissolution Trigger

This Charter, along with the temporary administrative apparatus of the territorial administration, shall immediately dissolve upon the occurrence of two simultaneous conditions:

- 1. The stabilisation of secure, unhindered and continued physical access to both of the Danubian Districts.*
- 2. The execution of a universal, democratic, secret-ballot election by the verified population roll to establish a permanent Parliament and Executive Branch.*

Section 6.2: Transfer of Power

Upon dissolution, all registry data, financial records, including funds, and legislative archives held by the administration shall be transferred immediately to the incoming constitutional government of the permanent republic.
